

BRITISH-AMERICAN DUAL TRACK MEET RESULTS IN A TIE

Each Combination Wins Five
Firsts But Englishmen Win
Six Seconds.

By Associated Press.
TRAVERSE ISLAND, N. Y., July 28.—The International track meet between the Oxford-Cambridge teams of England and the Princeton-Cornell teams was official declared a tie tonight after a previous official decision declaring the Britons the winners, had been reversed.

The sensation of the meet came in the three mile event, when Foreman of Princeton, a mere strapping, raw man, off his feet no less than ten times during the run. Foreman and Seagrave alternated in the lead. In the last lap Foreman drew away, to win by a good margin. In a desperate effort to overtake the Princeton lad, Seagrave sprinted the last fifty yards and collapsed in the arms of a team mate.

Notes of Oxford set a new international intercollegiate record for the hammer throw, heaving the ball 160 feet, 7 inches on his last attempt.

Abrahams of Cambridge was the individual star, winning the 100 yard dash and the broad jump. Dudd captain of the English team and 400 metre Olympic champion, was beaten in the 440 yard dash by Stevenson of Princeton.

Rudd Wins Half.
Excitement in the crowd was highest when the athletes went to the mark in the last event, the half mile, because a victory in this event would mean the winning of the meet for either team. Rudd, by winning caused a tie in the matter of first places and Millikan, who ran second, beating Johnston of Princeton, less than six inches, gave the English athletes six second places and the meet.

At a conference of officials and team captains following the meet it was decided that England was the winner in accordance with the rules that applied last week at the Britons' meet with the Yale-Harvard combination.

Later, however, another conference was held and it was brought out that when arrangements for today's contests were being made by cable it was agreed that the rules governing the Oxford-Princeton meet at the Queens club, England, last year, should govern today's events. Under these rules second places did not count in the final score.

The English team had previously declared their willingness to abide by this decision, but they were at first over-ruled by the officials.

England is Beginning to Awaken Sport Activities

England is coming back as a world power in sports. The spirit is reviving which makes any nation a worthy leader. The change has been noted since the war. Her weakness has been her own complacency. She has originated games, taught them to the world, and then sat back satisfied to see other countries develop the stars and cash in. To be a winner in sport the players must take it seriously. That is what England has not done in the past.

Tilden Plays Mind Tennis

WILLIAM T. TILDEN OFF THE GROUND

BY DEAN SNYDER
William T. Tilden in practice, plays tennis with a racket. In matches he plays with his mind. Mind-tennis has placed him among the world's list of super greats.

Ten years ago a slender boy in short pants ran balls in the Davis cup match between W. A. Larned and J. C. Parke at the Germantown Cricket club, Philadelphia. Nobody noticed him.

A year ago that same slender boy, now grown to a slender man, went to Wimbledon, England, and defeated taking the second, 9 to 2. Witt's two batters, scoring Dugan in the ninth, won the opening game. Hellmann started the fourth inning of the second game with a home run into the bleachers. Keefe hit Flanagan, the next batsman and after Woodall sacrificed, Flanagan duplicated Hellmann's homer. Cobb reappeared in the center field in the second contest, the manager having been out of the game since June 30 with an injured knee. Score: Philadelphia, 3; Detroit, 2. 10 0. Philadelphia, 9; Detroit, 2. 8 0. Oldham and Woodall; Keefe, Freeman and Perkins, Styles.

At present Tilden is over-tennised. The strain has been great in traveling thousands of miles. In England he won in spite of illness. The tall, thin, home again, is directing his siege guns towards the defense of the Davis cup which he won.

Former Swat King Takes Off Hat to Famous Babe Ruth

Perry Werden, Who Made 45
Circuit Socks, Says Babe
Is Peer of All.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., July 28.—The old home-run king takes off his hat to the new one.

Perry Werden, former king, who made his record of 45 drives in 1895, admits that Babe Ruth has a harder swing than he had when he made his mark.

"There is no doubt but that Babe has it on all of them—modern and ancient," says Werden.

"His swing and his weight are his biggest assets."

"When I made my record, I was playing with the St. Paul club of the old Western league."

"There wasn't much talk about my 45 home runs. The truth is, some fans panned me because I swung too hard."

"Fences were farther back then. I had to hit the ball hard to lift it out of the park."

"I weighed 180 pounds—if I had been heavier I might have hit them as far as Babe."

"I batted right-handed. My average that year was .428."

Now Umpires.
Werden is now calling balls and strikes in the Dakota league.

He isn't as spry as he once was, but he runs the game like a car.

His record was almost forgotten until Ruth made 23 home runs in 1919. Then the dope on Werden was dug up for comparison.

The best day at bat Werden ever had was on July 23, 1895, when he rapped out four home runs and a single in five times at bat, giving the slugger a total of 17 bases for one game.

Werden stood at the plate with his feet close together, lifted himself back and met the ball with his whole weight behind the bat.

He had a good eye and seldom struck out. His grip was like Babe's, cracked down to the handle.

Back in his time a team had to be about 20 runs ahead to be sure the game was won.

"We had a lively ball in my time," says Werden.

"We kept a big cake of ice under the grandstand. Before the game a dozen or so balls were put on it to freeze. When our side got five or six runs behind we would ring in a frozen ball. You can hit a frozen ball a mile. We won a lot of games that way."

"I'd like to see Babe lean on one of them. He'd set a new record."

Pete Herman isn't satisfied to lead the bantam strife. He'd like to cop the featherweight and lead a double life.

While the vision glows the life is young. Only when the vision fades can life be said to have ended.
